

Civilisation anglophone | Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln – U.S. President [Short Biography] – Oral Comprehension

He radiated a quality the people liked and respected and that was the quality of being a wise old man.
That's one of the things that made him a successful.

President Abraham Lincoln He spent his first years in His mother's death him and put on his already strained relationship with his father. He regarded his father,
....., all the things that what he saw in his father.

Aa love of knowledge made Lincoln into an and as he worked a series of odd jobs in New Salem Illinois. When Lincoln talked,, whether that was around pot-bellied stove [poêle à bois], at store, in storefronts, at court houses. After a term in the Illinois State Legislature, Lincoln decided He passed the bar and where he met Mary Todd.
Anybody who was watching what was going on in Springfield in those years knew that this fellow was that this was a fellow who was gonna make a name for himself in some way, and Mary Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd 4th 1842. Lincoln spent his next years practicing law but in 1858 for his seat in the US Senate. Though Lincoln lost the election he got the attention of and won the party's nomination in 1860. In the National race he would again face Stephen Douglas.

Stephen Douglas is saying Lincoln has to undo that idea or he won't be able successfully to challenge slavery.

..... but his views on slavery did not make him a welcomed leader
By his inauguration in March 1861, had seceded On April 12 1861 the Confederacy fired on Fort Sumter and

At first Lincoln made the war about maintaining the Union so as not to offend the loyal slave states. But eventually he shifted the cause and on January 1st 1863, Abraham Lincoln issued ..... Slavery

Lincoln easily won the election in 1864 and it would only be a few more months before Confederate General Robert E Lee
..... With the war over, Lincoln could look forward to better times. Reconstruction had already begun, but there were those that didn't readily accept John Wilkes Booth believed that Abraham Lincoln was and Booth believed that by killing him
..... On April 14th 1865 John Wilkes Booth
..... at Ford's Theatre in Washington DC. Lincoln was taken across the street to a boarding house where The nation had lost [...]