

'Jon and Bobby were on their way down Breeze Hill and out of Walton, past the reservoir, The Mons pub, Smiley's Tyre and Exhaust Centre, straight on to Merton Road and into the heart of Bootle, crossing Stanley Road, over the canal and round the back to the Strand entrance by the bus terminal. It was about two miles.'

David James Smith, The Sleep of Reason: The James Bulger Case, Chapter One, 2011.
